

2Up and Overloaded Terms & Conditions

I know that reading the fine print is never fun, but we've tried to ensure this makes sense in normal English. Still, if you have any questions, please let us know: 2UpAndOverloaded@gmail.com

Upon payment of your deposit, you are accepting our terms and conditions, and you guarantee that you have the authority to accept them, and that you do accept them on behalf of all members of your party. 2Up and Overloaded reserves the right to update or amend these terms and conditions at any time.

1. Terms

The following terms shall apply. "2Up and Overloaded," "we," "us," or "our" refers to the operator of this website and the party providing the tour services, whether operating as a sole proprietorship or other legal entity. The terms "you" or "participant" refers to the user, viewer of our website, and participant of our tour. The term "rider" refers to the rider of a motorcycle on one of our tours, and may be the same as "participant", and the term "pillion" refers to the participant riding in the pillion seat of the motorcycle. The term "tour" is the tour you have chosen to participate in, and the term "local" refers to the country or countries in which the tour takes place.

2. Registration, Deposit, & Payment

(2a) Step 1 – Contact Form – Upon submission of the website's contact form, a representative from 2Up and Overloaded will contact you by email to discuss your interest in the tour and set up a phone interview.

- Important – Please do not purchase airfare or any other non-refundable travel expenses related to the tour until after your spot has been confirmed by paying the deposit. See (2c).

(2b) Step 2 – One-on-One Call – This step is very important to us, because not only do we want to get to know you, but we want to be able to provide you with the best possible tour that suits your individual needs. During this phone call, among other things, we will ask you about:

- Your motorcycle riding experience and preferred riding styles,
- Your dietary requirements or food allergies,
- Any special travel arrangements that we might help you with,
- Any special needs (medical and others),
- Any limitations that will prevent you from participating fully in the tour.

During this phone call, we may answer any questions you might have about the tour. It is your responsibility to advise us at this time of any illness, medical conditions, allergies, or dietary needs that may affect your tour.

(2c) Step 3 - Deposit - Submitting a contact form does not confirm availability nor participation on the tour. In order to confirm a reservation, a $1,000 (one thousand U.S. dollars) deposit per participant is required at the time of booking. This deposit is applied towards your balance.

- Protect Your Payments – Expect the unexpected. If you would like to protect your deposit and balance, as well as other travel plans, please consider purchasing trip interruption and travel insurance, which may be obtained through your credit card or a third party.
- Reservation – Upon receipt of the deposit, it is agreed that you, and anyone else in your party, accept these terms and conditions, and we will reserve a place on your chosen tour. All bookings are made on a first-come first-served basis. We reserve the right to decline any booking at our discretion.

(2d) Step 4 - Balance Payment – 2Up and Overloaded requires your tour balance to be paid at least 30 days prior to the tour start date. The tour reservation can be canceled by 2Up and Overloaded with no refund of the deposit as a result of unpaid balances existing inside of 30 days to the tour start date.

- Upon receipt of a completed contact form and deposit, 2Up and Overloaded will issue you a confirmation notice and invoice via email which contains details of your tour reservation, terms and conditions, and the tour ‘balance payment’ date.
- Bookings made 30 days or less before the departure date will be accepted only with full payment, subject to availability.
- Only those who have paid in full will be allowed to participate in the tour.

5. Tour Logistics

(5a) Changes to Itinerary - Our itineraries are designed with the utmost care, and our objective is to provide our guests with the best possible experience. However, we cannot guarantee that we will not have to make sudden changes to our itineraries, as this is simply the nature of adventure travel.

- At all times, we reserve the right to make changes to our advertised tours, pricing, and itineraries when considered appropriate. Reasons for making such changes may include, but are not limited to accommodation constraints, industrial action, and acts of God.
- Please be aware that during the tour, some amenities (i.e. hotel elevators, swimming pools, etc.) require regular servicing and cleaning, and therefore may be inaccessible at times. We cannot be held responsible for some amenities being affected by local circumstances, maintenance, weather conditions, or mechanical breakdowns.

(5b) 3rd Party Contractors – 2Up and Overloaded, its employees, shareholders, officers, directors, successors, agents, and assigns (collectively 2Up and Overloaded), does not own or operate any entity which is to or does provide goods or services for your trip. We purchase transportation (by aircraft, bus, train, vessel, motorcycle, or otherwise), hotel and other lodging accommodations, restaurant, ground handling, and other services from various independent suppliers.

- All such persons and entities are independent contractors. As a result, 2Up and Overloaded is not liable for any negligent or willful act of any such person or entity or of any third person.

(5c) Time Zone Changes – Participants coming from locations that are very far away from the tour’s location will be subject to the effects of jet lag, which include lack of sleep and exhaustion from the travel itself. 2Up and Overloaded takes the consequences of jet lag very seriously, and we highly recommend that participants allow for an appropriate amount of time to stay in the region of the tour before the tour start date.

- Coming from Nearby – Participants traveling from three time zone hours or less away from the tour start location may arrive to the tour’s region on the tour start date, or earlier.
- Coming from Fairly Far – Participants traveling from four to eight time zones away should allow at least one full day of rest in the tour’s region prior to the tour start date.
- Coming from Very Far – Participants traveling from nine to twelve time zones away should allow at least two full days of rest in the tour’s region prior to the tour start date.
- Age 50+ – Jet lag often effects worsen with age. Consequently, participants aged 50 or older should consider adding at least an additional full day of rest to the recommendations above.
- Extra Travel Expenses – Arranging for accommodations for these advance days of rest, and all other associated expenses, are the responsibility of the participant. 2Up and Overloaded recognizes that these precautions add expense to the trip, but taking jet lag consequences seriously will allow participants to start the tour refreshed and alert, and therefore be able to enjoy every part of the journey.

6. Safety

(6a) Adventure Travel Disclaimer - There are many inherent risks in adventure travel of the type involved in our tours, which can lead to illness, injury, or even death. These risks are increased by the fact that these tours may take place in remote locations, far from medical facilities. The participant assumes all such risks associated with participating in this tour.

- In addition and without limitation, 2Up and Overloaded is not responsible for any injury, financial or physical loss, death, inconvenience, delay, or damage to personal property in connection with the provision of any goods or services whether resulting from but not limited to acts of God or force majeure, illness, disease, acts of war, civil unrest, insurrection or revolt, animals, strikes or other labor activities, criminal or terrorist activities of any kind, overbooking or downgrading of services, food poisoning, mechanical or other failure of any means of transportation, or for the failure of any transportation mechanism to arrive or depart on time.
- We are not responsible for any loss or damage to your property, including your motorcycle (if owned by you) irrespective of how any damage may have been caused.

(6b) Safe Riding Requirements – At 2Up and Overloaded, we take extra care to make sure that all our tours are as enjoyable and as safe as possible. This means that participants are required to adhere to the following guidelines while riding a motorcycle at all times during our tour:

- Follow the Local Laws – The rider is responsible for abiding by all local laws, including adhering to the speed limits. Any fines or violations are the rider's responsibility.

- Protective Clothing - Motorcycle jacket and pants with armor, or armored equivalent gear.
- Protective Boots - Sturdy motorcycle boots that provide some ankle support.
- Gloves

Before the tour start date, 2Up and Overloaded will provide participants with all our recommendations for proper riding gear that is suitable for the array of climates and riding conditions that exist in the tour's locations.

(6d) Environmental Challenges – Due to the nature of adventure travel and the diverse locations that our tours go to, the change in weather and environmental conditions may be extreme, especially compared to what you are used to. Participants should be aware that they may come across some or all of the following environmental conditions, and within short succession:

- Intense rain,

- High heat and humidity,
- High altitude,
- Persistent cold at high altitudes.

Activities that may occur during these conditions involve motorcycle riding, hiking, and other outdoor endeavors.

(6e) Food & Water Concerns – 2Up and Overloaded tries to select food stands and restaurants that have previously met our standards, and we have chosen these establishments in good faith. However, we cannot guarantee the quality and health safety of any of the food or water served at any food establishments that we visit. Participants bear full responsibility for the consequences of eating and drinking from any place during the tour, whether that establishment was recommended by us or not.

- Allergies and Other Dietary Concerns – Assuming that we are aware of any allergies or dietary concerns that a participant may have, we will try our best to acquire food for the participant that meets their specific needs. That being said, we cannot be held responsible in any way for failing in this regard, and it is up to the participant to adhere to any particular diet that they may have.
- Water Concerns - Water quality in the countries that your tour takes place may not meet your standards, and poor-quality water may lead to illness and severe health issues. Consequently, participants are encouraged to drink only bottled water or drinks, to avoid canned drinks soaking in water, and to avoid ice in your drinks. Brushing your teeth with only bottled water is also recommended.

(6f) Unruly Behavior & Abuse - 2Up and Overloaded reserves the right at our absolute discretion to terminate a participant's tour without prior notice if the participant is in our opinion disruptive, likely to cause annoyance, damage to any other person or property, or danger by putting themselves or others in harm's way.

- Abuse – We have a zero-tolerance policy regarding any type of abuse. Any form of threatening behavior, verbal, racial, sexual, or physical abuse to another member of the group or towards any of our staff, contractors, or tour leaders, will result in you being expelled from the tour and your tour terminated.
- Expulsion – In any of these circumstances, the participant(s) concerned will be required to leave the tour, and we will have no further responsibility to them including any return travel arrangements. No refunds will be made, and we will not pay any expenses or costs incurred as a result of the termination.

7. Motorcycle Riding

(7a) Rider Responsibility – We have no influence or control over your riding ability or skills, and it is entirely your responsibility to ensure that you are safe, riding within your own ability, and abiding by local laws, rules, and regulations for each country.

(7b) Riding Conduct – We expect a level of competency and an ability to fully control your motorcycle at all times. You are expected to ride in a courteous and safe manner in respect to your fellow riders and other road users, and are responsible for maintaining safe riding practices for the duration of the tour.

- If we feel you are not riding in a safe and courteous manner, or you are putting other members of the group or other road users at risk, we reserve the right at our absolute discretion either to ask you to leave the tour group and ride alone, or to leave the tour group altogether.
- The rider may be held responsible if mechanical or personal damage occurs due to their negligence in operating their motorcycle due to an intentional disregard for following safe and acceptable riding practices.

(7c) Tour Difficulty Gradings – Our tour gradings have been given in good faith, but without any responsibility to 2Up and Overloaded whatsoever. It is the participant's responsibility to choose the appropriate tour to their skill level and ability.

- We cannot be held responsible if the participant is out of their comfort zone in regard to the grading and difficulty of the tour.

(7d) Riding with the Weather in Mind – Participants should be aware of and be prepared for riding a motorcycle in the following weather conditions:

- Rain – As long as the rain is not too severe, motorcycle travel typically continues (cautiously) during the rain. Possessing appropriate rain gear is essential. Rain may also make roads flooded, slick, and muddy, and participants are expected to have experience riding in such conditions.
- Heat – For extremely hot climates, participants are encouraged to ride with proper lightweight, mesh gear that is suitable for the region. 2Up and Overloaded will also assist participants with tips on dealing with the climate. However, participants are responsible for monitoring their own health during the tour, and should inform the 2Up and Overloaded staff if they are feeling any signs of heat stress, heat exhaustion, or heat stroke, such as headache, confusion, nausea, light-headedness, rash, and other unusual symptoms.
- Cold – Even in tropical regions, at high altitudes it does get cold. Having a warm, wind-cutting jacket is important for these circumstances. Keep in mind that the addition of wind and rain can exacerbate these conditions.

(7e) Fueling the Motorcycle – During the tour and when riding together, we reserve time for fuel stops for the entire group based on the travel times involved and the mileage of the typical motorcycle used. Participants are required to monitor their own fuel use and notify tour organizers if they are in urgent need of a fuel stop. Please note that diesel is never to be put into the motorcycle.

(7f) Accidents – 2Up and Overloaded incurs no responsibility whatsoever for any motorcycle accident involving a participant with an unrelated third party or another participant.

- In such an occurrence, 2Up and Overloaded will if possible, and at its entire discretion, assist participants in obtaining necessary medical treatment and resolving disputes arising from accidents, but such assistance can be withdrawn if any involved participants refuse to abide by the directives of 2Up and Overloaded staff or directives of local authorities. 2Up and Overloaded bears no responsibility for the outcome of any such assistance.

(8d) Rental Motorcycle Substitution – 2Up and Overloaded does not guarantee the model of motorcycle you have asked for. In rare situations, an issue might prevent a motorcycle from going out as planned, and we work hard with our participants to make sure they get a resolution they are happy with. We reserve the right to substitute the motorcycle confirmed to the rental customer with a similar model. This constitutes the maximum liability of 2Up and Overloaded in relation to the availability of specific motorcycle models.
